Description

The Bentley Arnage 'T' laid claim to be the world's fastest saloon car in 2002 with a top speed just under 170mph. Powered by the 6.75-litre Rolls-Royce V8 engine which had been treated to what Bentley described as "the most thorough re-engineering of its life", the Arnage produced a whopping 450bhp and an amazing 645 lbs ft of torque, in no small part accredited to the twin-turbochargers. The other changes included a 'drive-by-wire' throttle to go with an electronic stability program and revised suspension. This transformed the luxury cruiser into a mile-crunching supercar rival, propelling the car to 60 miles per hour in just 5.5 seconds in consummate luxury.

Finished in Neptune Blue metallic this Mulliner Arnage T is a fabulous example that has been meticulously maintained by the previous owner and serviced by Bentley and Royce engineering to ensure it is running perfectly. The colour combination is extremely rare and looks stunning. The specification includes Sat nav electric heated seats which are diamond stitched and embroidered with the Bentley logo throughout.
